

CONTENTS

PART ONE: ASPECTS OF A PLAY

1. PLOT	The Raw Material of Plot	3
	The Imitation of Life	9
	Astonishment and Suspense	12
	The Imitation of the Action	14
	The Prejudice Against Plot	18
	The Provocation to the Prejudice	20
	Shakespeare	25
	A Plot Is Not a Play	31
2. CHARACTER	The Raw Material of Character	34
	From Fact to Fiction	36
	In Praise of Types	40
	Type and Archetype	46
	Typology and Mythology	51
	Modern Psychological Drama	54
	Beyond Types and Individuals	58
	The Stuff of Dreams	68
3. DIALOGUE	"Talking!"	70
	The Playwright as Talker	73
	Eloquence in Dialogue	77
	Naturalism	80
	Rhetorical Prose	85
	Rhetorical Verse	88
	Poetry	89
	Anti-Poetry	95
	Anti-Plays	98
4. THOUGHT	Thought and Feeling	102
	The Pathos of Thought	105
	Bad Ideas	109
	Propaganda	110
	A Play is an Intellectual Thing	112

CONTENTS

	The Spanish Drama	117
	The German Drama	122
	Shaw	137
	Pirandello	132
	Brecht	136
	The Dignity of Significance	142
5. ENACTMENT	Literature vs. Theatre	148
	To Impersonate, to Watch, and to be Watched	150
	Substitutions	157
	Identifications	159
	Empathy and Alienation	161
	The Adult and the Infantile	162
	Late Adolescence	164
	What the Actor Gives the Playright	166
	What the Playwright Gives the Actor	170
	Great Acting in Melodrama	172
	The Theatrical Occasion	178
	Play, Play-Acting, Acting	182
	Psychodrama	185
	// giuoco delle parti	188

PART TWO: DIFFERENT KINDS OF PLAYS

6. MELODRAMA	The Bad Name of Melodrama	195
	In Praise of Self-Pity	197
	Pity and Fear	200
	Exaggeration	203
	Language	206
	Zola and After	210
	The Quintessence of Drama	215
7. FARCE	Violence	219
	Scoffing at Marriage	225
	Comic Catharsis	228

CONTENTS

	Jokes and the Theatre	231
	Sweet and Bitter Springs	237
	The Dialectic of Farce	241
	Mischief as Fate	244
	In the Image of the Ape	248
	The Quintessence of Theatre	251
	"The Breath of Imaginary Freedom" «55
8. TRAGEDY	The Higher Forms «57
	Character in Comedy and Tragedy	263
	Death in Everyday Life	272
	"La oscura raiz del grito"	276
	Awe	281
	Compassion	283
	Shakespeare to Kleist	285
	Anger	287
	The Dialectic of Tragedy	288
9. COMEDY	"I Was Only Joking!"	295
	"Let's Not Go Into That!"	299
	Tragedy and Comedy: Some Generalizations	301
	As You Like It	310
10. TRAGI-COMEDY	Tragedy: Averted and Transcended	316
	Revenge, Justice, Forgiveness	320
	Despair, Hope	334
	REFERENCES	355
	ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	360
	INDEX	363