

Table of Contents

Preface	xv
Acknowledgments	xvii
CHAPTER I
The Accountability of Financial Regulation and Supervision Authorities:
The Defining Elements	1
§1.01 Introduction	1
§1.02 The Accountability of Financial Regulation and Supervision Authorities (FRSAs)	4
§1.03 Accountability towards Political Forums and Stakeholders	7
[A] The Power to Call-to-Account and to Hold-to-Account	8
[B] Political Forums	9
[C] Stakeholders	10
[D] Other Accountors	13
§1.04 The Time of Accountability: Ex-ante and Ex-post Accountability	14
§1.05 The Grounds of Accountability	15
§1.06 The Means of Accountability	16
§1.07 Why Is the Accountability of FRSAs Important?	19
[A] The Accountability of FRSAs as a Source of Independence	19
[B] The Accountability of FRSAs as a Source of Democratic Control	22
[C] The Accountability of FRSAs as a Source of Regulatory and Supervisory Performance	23
[D] The Accountability of FRSAs as a Source of Corrective Justice	24
[E] The Accountability of FRSAs as a Source of Legitimacy	24
§1.08 Understanding Failures in the Accountability of FRSAs	26
§1.09 Reasons, Research Questions, Structure and Methodology of the Book	27
[A] Reasons for the Study and Main Research Questions	27

[B]	Structure and Jurisdictions Analyzed, Period Covered and Other Methodological Aspects	28
[1]	Structure and Jurisdictions Analyzed	28
[2]	Period Covered	30
[3]	Interdisciplinary Approach with a Legal Focus	30
[4]	Accountability in Theory and in Practice	30
Part I	The Accountability of Financial Regulation and Supervision Authorities in Spain, the United Kingdom and the United States of America	33
CHAPTER 2
	The Structures of Financial Regulation and Supervision in Spain, the UK and the US	35
§2.01	Introductory Remarks	35
§2.02	The Different Approaches to the Institutional Structure of Financial Supervision	36
§2.03	The Structure of Financial Supervision in Spain, the UK and the US	39
[A]	The Structure of Financial Supervision in Spain	39
[1]	Banking: Banco de España (BdE)	40
[2]	Insurance: Dirección General de Seguros y Fondos de Pensiones (DGSFP)	42
[3]	Securities: Comisión Nacional del Mercado de Valores (CNMV)	45
[4]	The Financial Crisis and the Reform of the Spanish System of Financial Supervision: Towards a Twin Peaks Structure?	46
[B]	The Structure of Financial Supervision in the UK	47
[1]	From 1997 to 2012: Integrated Supervision; The Tripartite Scheme: The Bank of England (BoE), the Financial Services Authority (FSA) and the Treasury	47
[a]	The Bank of England (BoE)	48
[b]	The Financial Services Authority (FSA)	50
[2]	The Financial Crisis in the UK and the Reform of the System towards a Twin Peaks Model	51
[C]	The Structure of Financial Supervision in the US	54
[1]	The Institutional Structure of Banking Supervision in the US	55
[a]	The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Board of Governors of the Fed)	55
[b]	The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC)	57
[c]	The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC)	58
[2]	Insurance Supervision in the US: State-Based Supervision and the National Association of Insurance Supervisors (NAIC)	59

	[3] The Institutional Structure of Securities Supervision in the US	61
	[a] The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC)	61
	[b] The Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC)	62
	[4] The Dodd-Frank Act: Towards a Twin Peaks Model?	63
§2.04	The Failures in the Accountability of FRSA towards Political Actors and Stakeholders before the Financial Crisis	65
	[A] Failures in the Accountability of FRSA towards Political Forums	65
	[1] Passivity of Parliaments over the De-regulatory Approaches Adopted by FRSA	67
	[a] The Case of Alternative Net Capital Requirements for Brokers/Dealers in Consolidated Supervised Entities	68
	[B] Failures in the Accountability of Financial Supervisors towards Stakeholders: The Failure of FRSA to Listen to Stakeholders – or to Some of Them	70
	[1] FRSA Were Captured by the Financial Industry: The Case of OTC Derivatives	71
	[2] FRSA Largely Dismissed the Interests of the General Investing Public and the Objective of Financial Stability	72
	[a] Lending Malpractices: Advocate Groups and the Fed	72
	[b] Dismissing Red Flags: Madoff, Markopolos and the SEC	73
§2.05	Conclusions	75
CHAPTER 3
The Accountability of FRSA towards Political Forums in Spain, the UK and the US
§3.01	Introduction: The Accountability of FRSA to Political Forums	77
§3.02	The Appointments at FRSA: The Role of Governments and Parliaments	78
	[A] The Appointments and Removals at FRSA in Spain	79
	[1] Banking Sector: The Appointments and Removals at the Banco de Espana (BdE)	79
	[2] Insurance Sector: The Appointments and Removals at the Dirección General de Seguros y Fondos de Pensiones (DGSFP)	81
	[3] Securities Sector: The Appointments and Removals at the Comisión Nacional del Mercado de Valores (CNMV)	82
	[4] Recent Developments in the Appointments at Spanish FRSA	85
	[B] The Appointments and Removals at FRSA in the UK	86
	[1] The Appointments and Removals at the Bank of England (BoE)	86
	[2] The Appointments and Removals at the Financial Services

	Authority (FSA)	88
	[3] The UK Institutional Reforms in the Field of Financial Regulation and Supervision: The Appointments and Removals at the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) and the Prudential Regulation Authority (PRA)	89
	[C] The Appointments and Removals at FRsAs in the US	90
§3.03	Parliamentary Hearings with Representatives from FRsAs	93
§3.04	Building Transparent FRsAs? The Role of Reporting and Disclosure Duties	101
§3.05	Controlling the Budgets of FRsAs	109
§3.06	Conclusions	118
	[A] The Heterogeneity of Accountability Models and Practices across Jurisdictions	118
	[B] Why Do Different Jurisdictions Adopt Diverse Accountability Schemes?	119
	[C] The Post-financial Crisis Reforms in Spain, the UK and the US	121
	[D] Accountability and Independence	123
	[E] The Limitations of the Legal Design of Accountability	124
CHAPTER 4
The Accountability of FRsAs towards Stakeholders in Spain, the UK and the US
		127
§4.01	Introduction	127
§4.02	Participation of Stakeholders in Financial Policy-Making	128
	[A] Constitutional and Legislative Frameworks Regarding Stakeholder Engagement	129
	[B] Public Consultations	131
	[C] Stakeholder Consultative Bodies	132
	[1] Asymmetric Representation as a Source of Asymmetric Accountability	136
	[2] Stakeholder Consultative Bodies: Which Way Forward?	140
§4.03	The Creation of FRsAs and of FRsAs' Bodies in the Consumer and Investor Realms	145
	[A] The US: The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) and the SEC's Office of the Investor Advocate	146
	[1] The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB)	146
	[2] The SEC's Office of the Investor Advocate	148
	[B] The UK: The Money Advice Service (MAS)	149
	[C] The Implications of FRsAs and of FRsAs' Bodies in the Field of Consumer and Investor Protection for the Legitimacy of Financial Rules	151
§4.04	Revolving Door: The Missing Reform?	152
§4.05	The Accountability of FRsAs towards Stakeholders in Judicial Instances	157
	[A] The Judicial Review of the Actions of FRsAs	157

[B]	The Tort Liability of FRSAs	161
[1]	The Tort Liability of FRSAs in Spain	162
	[a] AVA and Gescartera or How the Law and Its Judicial Interpretation Create Barriers to the Effective Liability in Tort of FRSAs in Spain	163
[2]	The Tort Liability of FRSAs in the UK: Statutory Insulation from Liability	167
[3]	EU Law and the Liability of the FRSAs of the Member States	170
[4]	The Tort Liability of FRSAs in the US	173
	[a] The Liability of the SEC for Negligent Supervision: The Madoff Saga and the Discretionary Function Exception	174
§4.06	Conclusions	177
Part II The Accountability of the European Supervision Authorities in the Financial Field and of the European Systemic Risk Board		183
CHAPTER 5
The Post-financial Crisis European Financial Supervision Architecture and the Need for Enhanced Accountability		185
§5.01	Financial Supervision in the European Union before the European System of Financial Supervision	185
§5.02	From the Lamfalussy Committees to the De Larosière Authorities	190
§5.03	The European Supervision Authorities in the Financial Field (ESAs)	193
§5.04	The European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB)	197
§5.05	The Nature and Scope of the Actions of the ESAs and of the ESRB and the Need for Enhanced Accountability	199
[A]	The Powers of the ESAs and of the ESRB and the Need for Enhanced Accountability	200
	[1] Development of Draft Technical Standards	200
	[2] Issuance of Warnings, Guidelines and Recommendations	202
	[3] Adoption of Binding Decisions Addressed to FRSAs and to Financial Market Participants	203
	[a] Breaches of EU Law by the FRSAs of the Member States	203
	[b] Emergency Situations	204
	[c] Settlement of Disagreements between FRSAs	205
[B]	The Reach of the Actions of the ESAs and of the ESRB and the Need for Enhanced Accountability	206
	[1] The Role of the ESAs and of the ESRB in the Prevention, Management and Resolution of Crises	206
	[2] Maximum Harmonization, Regulations and the Role of the ESAs	207

CHAPTER 6

The Accountability of the European Supervision Authorities in the Financial Field towards Political Forums	209
§6.01 Introduction: The Accountability of the European Supervision Authorities (ESAs) and of the European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB) towards Political Actors in Perspective	209
§6.02 The Accountability of the ESAs and of the ESRB towards the EU Political Institutions	212
[A] Political Oversight over the Appointments and Removals at the ESAs and at the ESRB	213
[1] Appointments and Removals at the ESAs	213
[2] Appointments and Removals at the ESRB	218
[B] Political Oversight over the ESAs and the ESRB's Decisional Powers	219
[1] Political Oversight over the ESAs' Decisional Powers	219
[a] Oversight over Draft Regulatory Technical Standards	219
[b] Oversight over Draft Implementing Technical Standards	221
[c] Oversight over Guidelines and Recommendations	221
[d] Oversight over Binding Decisions Addressed to FRsAs and to Financial Institutions	222
[2] Political Oversight over the ESRB's Decisional Powers	225
[C] Transmission of Information from the ESAs and from the ESRB to Political Forums as an Accountability Mechanism	226
[1] Work Programmes and Annual Reports	227
[2] Statements and Hearings	228
[3] Assessment of Market Developments	229
[4] Advice	231
[5] Accountability with and without Transparency in the Reporting Obligations of the ESAs and of the ESRB vis à vis the EU Political Institutions	232
[D] Budgetary Oversight and Control	233
§6.03 The Accountability of FRsAs with Membership in the ESAs and in the ESRB towards the EU and the Member States' Political Institutions	236
§6.04 The Accountability of the ESAs and of the ESRB towards the Member States' Political Forums	237
§6.05 The Accountability of the ESAs towards Political Forums: Accountable and Independent Supervision of the EU Financial Markets?	239

CHAPTER 7

The Accountability of the European Supervision Authorities in the Financial Field towards Stakeholders	243
§7.01 Introduction	243
§7.02 The Evolution of Stakeholder Participation in EU Financial Regulation	247

[A]	Participation in the European Economic and Social Committee's Membership and Activities	247
[B]	Participation in the European Commission's Consultation Procedures and Initiatives	249
[C]	The Interactions between Legislative and Stakeholder Fora: The European Parliamentary Financial Services Forum and the Finance Watch Initiative	252
[D]	The Participation of Financial Industry Representatives in Soft-Law Delegated Regulation	255
[E]	Participation in the Market Participants Consultative Panels at the Lamfalussy Committees	256
§7.03	The Participation of Stakeholders in the European Supervision Authorities (ESAs)	256
[A]	The ESAs' Stakeholder Groups (SGs)	257
[1]	The SGs and Input-Legitimacy in EU Financial Regulation	258
[2]	The Legal Configuration of the ESAs and of the SGs	259
[a]	The Membership of the SGs: Asymmetric Representation of Stakeholders	260
[b]	The Internal Decision-Making Procedures at the SGs: Asymmetric Allocation of Powers	262
[c]	The Safeguard Clause: The Adoption of Decisions in Cases of Urgency	264
[B]	The Involvement of Stakeholders in the ESAs' Public Consultations	265
[C]	The ESAs' Standing Committees Consultative Groups	267
[D]	The ESAs and Revolving Doors	268
§7.04	The Duty of the ESAs to Give Reasons as an Accountability Mechanism	270
§7.05	The ESAs and Transparency	271
§7.06	The ESRB and the Limits of Accountability towards Stakeholders	274
§7.07	Stakeholder Judicial and Quasi-Judicial Redress	277
[A]	The Accountability of the ESAs towards Stakeholders through Judicial Means: The Role of the CJEU	277
[1]	The Request of Judicial Review of Decisions of the ESAs	277
[2]	The Liability of the ESAs Towards Stakeholders for Damages	283
[B]	The European Ombudsman (EO) as a Source of Redress	285
§7.08	Conclusions	287
Part III	The Accountability of International Networks of Financial Regulation and Supervision Authorities	293

CHAPTER 8

International Networks of Financial Regulation and Supervision Authorities as Global Standard-Setters	295
§8.01 Introduction: Towards a Definition of International Networks of Financial Regulation and Supervision Authorities (INFRSAs)	295
§8.02 Some Story about the BCBS, the IOSCO and the IAIS	300
[A] The Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (BCBS)	300
[B] The International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO)	304
[C] The International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS)	306
[D] The Network of INFRSAs: The Joint Forum	308
§8.03 Conclusions	309

CHAPTER 9

The Accountability of International Networks of Financial Regulation and Supervision Authorities	311
§9.01 Introduction	311
§9.02 The Role of FRsAs in INFRSAs: Legitimacy Concerns from a National Perspective	314
§9.03 The Accountability of INFRSAs towards FRsAs and towards Stakeholders	319
[A] The Membership in INFRSAs	319
[1] The Membership in the BCBS	320
[2] The Membership in the IOSCO	322
[3] The Membership in the IAIS	325
[B] The Internal Organization of INFRSAs	327
[1] The Internal Organization of the BCBS	328
[2] The Internal Organization of the IOSCO	330
[3] The Internal Organization of the IAIS	333
[C] The Transparency and the Inclusiveness of INFRSAs	335
[1] Transparency and Inclusiveness in the BCBS	336
[2] Transparency and Inclusiveness in the IOSCO	339
[3] Transparency and Inclusiveness in the IAIS	341
§9.04 Conclusions	342
[A] Heterogeneity of Jurisdictions Represented in the Work of INFRSAs	342
[B] Heterogeneity of Stakeholders Represented in the Work of INFRSAs	343
[C] Diversity of Participatory Arrangements	344
[D] The Financial Crisis and the Reforms in the Governance of INFRSAs	344

Concluding Remarks	347
--------------------	-----

Index	357
-------	-----